

Kilkenny's Memorials, Plaques and Signs – Can You Help?

Memorials and plaques are an often overlooked part of our cultural heritage. They identify and honour people, historic events and heritage landmarks of the county. Whilst we know that there are many such plaques, memorials and signs located throughout County Kilkenny, to date they have never been recorded. So, the Heritage Office of Kilkenny County Council is now undertaking an audit of these plaques and memorials, and we would like your help.

The information gathered in this audit will be made public and may be of interest to local historians, community groups and historical societies. It will also be useful to inform policies about civic memorials in the county.

The types of memorials that we are interested in are those which commemorate:

- Influential people (politics, sport, religion, literature, public life)
- Events
- Dedications on buildings, bridges and other structures
- Special or sacred places and/or structures
- Significant street names and laneways
- Miscellaneous (bench marks, armorial plaques, mile markers etc)
- Personal memorials

Please note – graveyard memorials are not included in this survey.

If you know of any such memorials in your area we would be very grateful if you could let us know by filling out the survey overleaf and either post or email it back to the Dearbhala Ledwidge, Heritage Officer, Kilkenny County Council, Johns Green House, Johns Green, Kilkenny. Tel: 056-7794925. Email: dearbhala.ledwidge@kilkennycoco.ie

This project is an action of the Kilkenny Heritage Plan, undertaken in partnership with the Kilkenny Heritage Forum, and is co-funded by Kilkenny County Council and the Heritage Council.
